Dear Customer,

We are pleased to announce our continued partnership between Allied Storage & Racking and Stow International NV. Allied Storage & Racking is a market leader of warehouse equipment and since 1997 have been working closely with STOW in the Irish market to service our existing customers in Ireland and also to develop new opportunities. As the largest manufacturer in Europe STOW provide the most advanced Racking/Storage systems on the market today.

We will continue to further expand our market presence in Ireland by working in close partnership with Allied Storage & Racking. Our foremost goal is to satisfy the customer by providing our best services through a local partner and provide them access to our complete portfolio/ products. This partnership will guarantee us to enhance and enrich our business in Ireland and also provide you the support you would expect and deserve.

This announcement letter is mainly written to let you know you can contact Allied Storage & Racking as of now for any queries you might have in relation to our products.

Yours Truly,

Bart Vankriekingen
